

Be mentored by local industry professionals in workshops and camps that cover every aspect of media-making, from introductory to advanced courses.
View all offerings for youth and adults at nwfilmforum.org/youth!

WORKSHOP

Cadence - Making Video Poetry

SATURDAY, APRIL 13th

11am to 4pm

For youth 13-18. Students will be introduced to the genre of videopoetry and collaborate to create a videopoem of their own. Students will engage with poetry playfully, through poetry games, video collage, and soundscape. Fun, explorative, and experimental, this workshop will help students understand the many ways poetry can be experienced off the page. Using Adobe Premiere, students will create and edit their own video poems to share at the 2019 Cadence Video Poetry Festival. Taught by Catherine Bresner.

CAMP - Imagination Animation

June 24-28 - 10am-4pm

For youth 8-11 - In this camp, youth will learn how to tell stories with expressive characters and exciting action using animation. They'll start by learning stop motion and hand-drawn animation techniques. Working in teams, they'll also design and create a pixilation animation- a large scale stop motion film starring themselves.

CAMP - Advanced Animation

July 29 - August 2 - 10am-4pm

For youth 12-17 - Whether you're new to animation or have been making it for a while, this camp will help you get to the next level and create more complex animations. Learn about physical multiplane animation and learn how to use Adobe After Effects to accomplish a similar style digitally. You'll have time and mentorship to design and create an original animations. If you like DIY, spending time on the details, and bringing your imagination to life, join us and see what you can create!

CAMP - Be an Influencer

July 15-19 - 10am-4pm

Reel Grrls and Northwest Film Forum are partnering to bring an exciting new camp!

Who can apply: Female, transgender, and gender non-conforming youth grades 8-12.

Attention all future Social Media Influencers! Ever wonder what it takes to go viral? In this week-long day-camp you'll learn the pros and cons of being a social media influencer in 2019 and work in small groups to create web content. The focus of this one-week camp is broken into three categories: Social Emotional Learning, Pros and Cons of being an Influencer, and Basic Video Skills.

CAMP - Making the Impossible

July 22-26 - 10am to 4pm

For youth 11-14 - Filmmakers have always been trying to make impossible realities come to life. Whether it's spaceships, strange creatures, other worlds, or extreme weather, where there's a will, there's a way! In this camp, students will explore the world of visual effects by learning how to create and record physical effects from classic films using models, mattes, and other tricks. They'll also learn about how current filmmakers are using virtual reality to take people on otherwise impossible journeys.

Scholarships & Student Resources

Scholarships are available for all our workshops and camps. Apply online!

nwfilmforum.org/youth/youth-programs-scholarships/

Teens: See films at NWFF using your teentix pass!

Student annual memberships to Northwest Film

Forum are $35 Get discounts on gear rentals, screenings, and workshops!

Summer Jobs and Internships

Apply at nwfilmforum.org

Northwest Film Forum has year round internship opportunities, as well as paid summer program positions for adult teaching artists and mentors. For more information visit our website or email jonah@nwfilmforum.org.